

CURRENTS

A poetic pressed paper made by hand from renewable and recyclable mulberry and salago fibers. Its applications are endless... as a room divider, screen, window or wall treatment just to name a few. Sold in 48" X 96" panels and made of 100% pulp.

WEITZNER

WEITZNER

WWW.WEITZNERLIMITED.COM

For inquiries please call
Customer Service at 888.609.5551

© WEITZNER LIMITED

SPRING 2010

HEARTH

An innovative take on traditional grass cloth, Hearth is made from organic abaca fibers that are hand woven and then layered over color dyed Japanese papers. 36" wide and Class A rated.

ONDINE

Named for the storied water nymph, the undulations of Ondine's gently rippled design call to mind a light breeze or whisper. The soft vertical pleat enhances any space. 35.5" wide and Class A rated.

Newsworthy

Using an age-old technology of upcycling old newspapers, 100% real newsprint strips are hand-woven on a loom and then paperbacked to make Newsworthy suitable for the wall. A wonderful, tactile alternative to an expected grasscloth. 47" wide and Class A rated.